

PRESSE INFORMATION

D-Breisach, 25th Sept 2017 The new internet presence of the German motorcycle accessory producer WUNDERKIND-Custom (WK) now offers much more information in a clear structure combined with a fresh design.

The new editorial part includes a showroom, newsroom and a separate pressroom. An individual location search regarding official partner dealers of the high-end manufacturer is also offered.

In a clear overview the new shop represents the entire product portfolio of the custom-brand, and offers a general product inquiry. Moreover, it also offers a model-specific range preview.

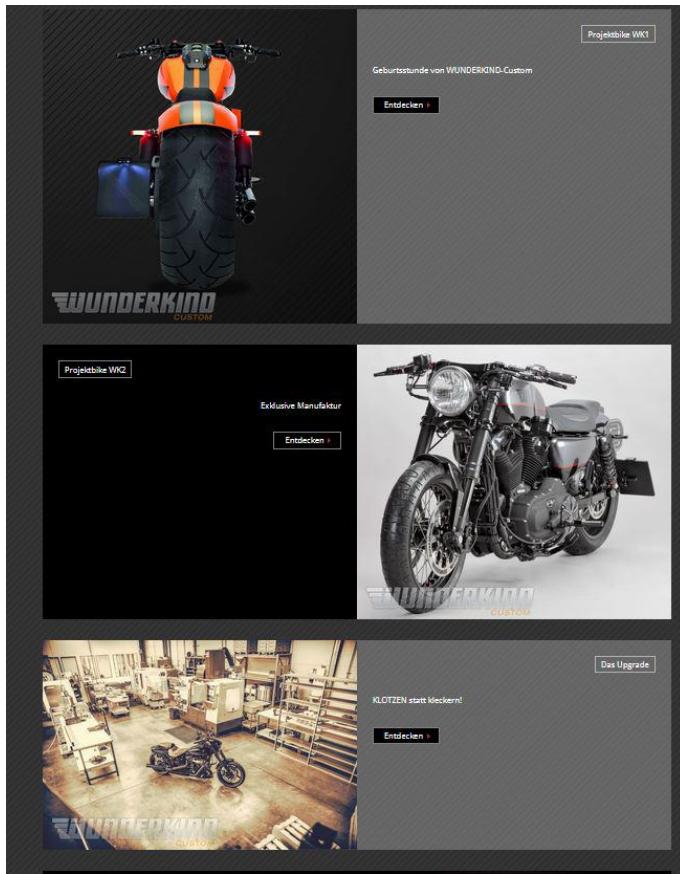

„While commercial customers - like specialist dealers of the motorcycle industry – have the opportunity to order via the B2B-shop where their individual negotiated conditions are automatically included in their shopping process, also the private customers shall be addressed by the well structured B2C-shop”, says head and visionary Christian Mehlhorn.

By using more pictures and sketches the total offer gains a more clear and self-descriptive overview. Thereby, WUNDERKIND-Custom (WK) wants to simplify the online shopping as much comfortable as possible also without a direct consultation.
