Custom parts for Indian Chief Bobber & identical models

D-Breisach, 26th April 2022 The Indian Chief is known as one of the most popular motorcycles of the USA. For its new edition, WUNDERKIND-Custom has developed numerous new accessories. Further custom parts are in process.

Smart. Ergonomic. Noble. With the expansion of its range of custom parts for the new Indian Chief model family, once again the German-based company demonstrates its ability to transform a good motobike into an excellent and tailored-made custombike, just by replacing and optimizing various parts.

For a better operability combined with a coherent design, there are individual adjustable brake and clutch levers in the handlebar area. Also, handlebar grips with vibration-reducing rubbers, mirrors, and a replacement cover for the brake fitting in a matching design can be found in the front, now. Covers for hiding the reflectors at the side round off the program. The newly created and plain LED mini indicators make the front significantly slimmer and integrate the turn signals flawlessly.

Furthermore, the cover of the foot brake cylinder finds a shapely replacement in a matching design to the cover of the front brake fitting. Chic replacement pedals were made for the shift and brake levers, which are much easier to use thanks to their length and shape. Moreover, the original footrests can be exchanged against custom footpegs which correspond to the design of the replacement pedals.

Also the original license plate holder and rear lights have been reduced in size without compromising visibility; the 3-in-1 LED lighting is discreetly integrated directly under the fender and a cleaned up lateral license plate holder design offers multi-adjustment options.

But that is not all: the accessory manufacturer has planned further custom parts, already. Among them is also a complete rear fender conversion which should include an accessory fender, struts, and an adjustable bobber seat.

Some of the custom parts mentioned here are also compatible with other models in the Indian Chief family. Details can be found on the manufacturer's website. All accessories comply with the German StVZO or have a parts certificate.
